The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 13 & 15-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wieske (0,253,429) in view of Hollo for reasons of record.

Applicant urges that Wieske does not disclose sunflower lecithin. This argument has been considered but is not persuasive because Hollo teaches sunflower lecithin. Applicant argues that Hollo uses sunflower lecithin in pig food. This argument has been considered but is not persuasive because at page 1001, column 1, the utility of this lecithin product in foods is disclosed. The fact that Wieske did not select sunflower lecithin is not alone seen to constitute unobviousness. Applicant urges that Hollo does not use his lecithin in frying. But given the similarities disclosed in Hollo between soybean lecithin and sunflower lecithin, it would have been obvious to substitute the sunflower lecithin of Hollo for the soybean lecithin of Wieske in order to utilize an export commodity from a developing nation. Applicant urges that the specification demonstrates that sunflower lecithin has improved secondary spattering qualities. This argument has been considered but is not persuasive since the claims as written do not require any improvement in secondary spattering. Further the values on Tables 2 & 3 do not appear to show a significant difference in spattering values.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
